NOTE FROM THE MISSION DIRECTOR

I am happy to present the 2022 Annual Report, reporting on core activities that were undertaken during this period proving its impact and believing even better into the near future.

Our strategic plan of “enhancing the ability of vulnerable women, youth, children and persons with disability to have access to a sustainable livelihood and socio-economic status with dignity” will guide our work for many more years. This is crucial in terms of bringing entire target communities together behind the same development objectives considering the changing climatic scenario and socio-economic condition. There are different issues to work on but, I am sure, this issue is more paramount important than others that are directly related to the livelihoods of one and all. Our colleagues and partners in our program looked at how the world was changing and hence came up with a single consolidated strategy. Through the partnership with people and gender equality at its heart, the plan sets ambitious development goals and how DMI can best contribute to fighting for their rights-empowering women, promoting sustainable farming practices, developing children and youth, health, and well-being for the community.

The strength of the partnership rests on the clear guidance of how we will work through 2022, striving to build and improve sustainable practices in our work in all areas. In the context of the present plan, I look forward to serving as a voice for women, GBV survivors, and farmers living in abject poverty and ensuring recognition for the work of DMI.

I look forward to working with partners around the globe and I would like to thank all of our supporters, donors, partners, staff, and volunteers for their contributions. In particular, I thank our founder father, superior general, provincials, and country directors who did so much to consolidate our planning and be able to campaign more vigorously and credibly than ever before.

Throughout the pages of this report, I invite you to reflect on the range of DMI’s activities, through its emergency response work and development programs, to help people lift themselves out of poverty and find greater equality.

May God Bless You all and Our Global Mission!

Sr. Viji, DMI

NOTE FROM THE COUNTRY DIRECTOR

Dear all,

I am highly happy to present this annual report for the year-2022.

It has been a year of challenges and finding solutions for women's and children development, topped of course by the Corona Virus and its variants. As we head into the new year, we must find more innovative solutions!

We built capacities of women and young girls in sustainable farming, SHG and Savings, federations, and other vocational skills to enhance their skills and earning capacity for their dignified life. We empowered the poor and needy children through quality primary education, trained them in children's parliaments and developed leadership qualities, ensured nutrition and health to prevent children from hunger and semi-starvation, and enhanced their self-confidence for their bright future.

We are very aware that we need to keep our women engaged and updated with various skills and children engaged in education. If not, we will lose them back to the poverty cycle which, without the opportunities that we provide, will encompass our women and children again. We will not let that happen.

Every cloud has a silver lining- we will use this time to further enhance and develop knowledge and skills and development education through innovative methods and standardize it. The DMI team remains focused on reaching our women and children in the most difficult circumstances by providing love, care, and education. In this way, we uphold the country motto - Unité, Dignité, & Travail (Unity, Dignity, and Work) in our actions.

Let me end by saying a tremendous thank you to all our generous and loving donors. We could not have done it without you! I thank God almighty for his abundant blessing and graces during 2022 and in the coming years ahead.

I thank our founder father, superior general, provincials, my team members, and various stakeholders for all your support and encouragement to standardize the programs and escalate the lives of our target women, children, and youth in CAR.

Thank you forever.

Sr. Amala, DMI

INTRODUCTION

The Central African Republic lives in an environment marked by internal instability, for ten years it has suffered repeated military and political crises which have affected the socio-economic fabric and the defence and security forces.

The political history of this country of about 3.5 million inhabitants is punctuated by political upheavals, leading to institutional and economic instability unfavourable to its development. During these recurrent crises, many of the children fell victim in various ways, including because the education system was in a chaotic state. But at the beginning of 2022, we are seeing a marked improvement in security and peace is gradually returning to this country, which has enabled DMI AHI to come to the aid of nearly 2297 children who have lost hope.

Women's empowerment is a part to encourage women to feel strong by telling them that they can do everything that they want to do. Women can work outside their home, have opportunity to make up their mind. ... Empowerment helps to reduce in domestic violence due people promote and give the value to women. Characteristics like intelligence, success, and kindness are just a few examples that make women feel empowered. ... While a variety of celebrities do come to mind when thinking of empowering women, respondents also enjoy empowering role models like themselves. Women's empowerment is all about equipping and allowing women to make life-determining decisions through the different problems in society. We thank God and our well-wishers for their support and guidance to initiate various processes for womenfolk and children and helping them to have access to dignity and a quality of life in the society.

VISION

A world where everyone, especially the poor, live with dignity and are empowered to guide their own development to prosperity.

MISSION

RATIONALE FOR IMPLEMENTING FOLLOWING PROGRAM

The Central African Republic is a fragile country. The Central African Republic remains one of the poorest countries in the world and is grappling with numerous human capital challenges. It is one of the world's poorest and most fragile countries despite its abundant natural resources (470 mineral occurrences, with oil, gold, and diamonds having the most significant potential). With a population of over six million, the Central African Republic ranks at the bottom of the Human Capital- 188th out of 189 on the Human Development Index. It is estimated that approximately 71% of the population was living below the international poverty line.

Almost 664,000 persons remain internally displaced while 735,000 Central African refugees are sheltering in neighbouring countries due to poverty, civil wars, lack of employment, and poor income (UNHCR).

The Central African Republic has one of the lowest education and gender equality indicators in the world. The poor quality of primary education, the nonexistence of secondary school education for girls, and the numerous cases of violence against women and girls remain pressing challenges for the country.

Maternal mortality is among the world's highest (882 per 100,000 live births), while the under-five child mortality rate is the sixth highest in the world, (116 children out of every 1,000) (UNICEF). The average life expectancy is 53 years. 40% of the population suffers from chronic malnutrition while fertility rates remain high with 6.4 children per woman.

Its institutions are weak, citizens have limited access to basic services, infrastructure is woefully inadequate, gender-based violence is widespread, and the social fabric has been eroded. The cycles of violence are deeply entrenched, owing primarily to (i) a lack of social cohesion, (ii) the concentration of political power in the hands of a small elite, (iii) social and regional disparities, (iv) the capture and mismanagement of natural resources by the elite, and (v) persistent insecurity fuelled by a regional system of conflicts.

The main challenges remain (i) the restoration of lasting peace and security and (ii) fostering more inclusive economic growth; economic diversification; the creation of better jobs; improved human capital; the promotion and improvement of the business environment; and strengthened farming capacity.

It is estimated that 3.1 million Central Africans, or more than half of the country's population, are expected to need humanitarian assistance.

POLITIQUE/HUMANITAIRE

Le parlement adopte la loi sur l'abolition de la peine de mort en RCA

Les députés de la nation ont adopté le 21 mai 2022 par acclamation la proposition de loi portant abolition de la peine de mort en République centrafricaine. Cette proposition de loi initiée par le député Achille Bangue-Betangui, de la 6^{ème} législature et reprise par celui de la 7^{ème} législature Kevin Kakpayen.

La peine de mort est désormais bannie en République centrafricaine, car les députés de la nation, réunis en session plénière, ont voté par acclamation la proposition de loi mettant un terme à la peine de mort en Centrafrique. Après la présentation du rapport faite par ladite commission, chargée de faire l'examen de cette proposition de loi, trois groupes parlementaires à savoir: MCU, MOUNI et Emergence ainsi qu'un député, sont intervenus pour donner des avis favorables vis-à-vis de cette proposition de loi tout en apportant des suggestions et contributions.

Un intervenant s'est interrogé sur l'opportunité d'abolir la peine de mort en Centrafrique alors que le pays continue de traverser des moments difficiles sur le fond de violence armée. Abolir la peine de mort, c'est une manière d'encourager la prime à l'impunité, a-t-il déclaré.

Suite au vote de cette proposition de loi, le député Kevin Kakpayen a exprimé sa joie en disant que c'est une innovation qu'ils sont en train d'apporter pour cette législature si déjà en une année, ils ont fait une proposition de loi. Il pense que d'ici la fin de leur mandat, cette législature sera pleine de propositions de lois adoptées par l'assemblée nationale. « En s'investissant pour cette proposition de loi, je ne suis pas investi comme député mais, j'ai également mon regard d'avocat parce que je le suis. Lorsqu'on abolit la peine de mort dans notre dispositif pénal, c'est juste pour faire conformer notre dispositif pénal avec certains dispositifs pénaux des pays voisins ou bien des pays dans le monde entier. Un pays qui continue d'appliquer la politique de la peine de mort est qualifié de pays criminel. Vous entendez parler que, quelqu'un a été condamné à 20 ans, que cette personne endure les 20 ans en prison » a-t-il déclaré.

Le député de Mbaiki 1 a ajouté que si la justice n'est pas faite, les gens vont penser que c'est l'abolition de la peine de mort qui est en train de « phagocyter » et faciliter l'impunité, ou non « l'impunité naît du fait que la justice n'est pas appliquée ou si on instaure aujourd'hui une justice à double vitesse, c'est là où on parle de l'impunité » a-t-il conclu.

Cette proposition de loi visant à abolir la peine de mort intervient au moment où la première session criminelle de l'année 2022 à la cour d'appel de Bangui est en cours.

L'ONG DMI-AHI célèbre la fête des mères avec 450 femmes des fédérations féminines en RCA

A l'occasion de la fête des mères célébrée le 29 mai en Centrafrique, l'ONG DMI-AHI Humanité Internationale, a décidé d'honorer les femmes issues des six fédérations féminines des localités de Bégon, Samba, Bangui, PK22, Bimbo2, Bimbo3. La célébration a par anticipation eu lieu le samedi 28 mai dernier à Bégon sur la route Boali.

Elles sont environ 450 femmes venues de différentes localités environnantes de Bangui la capitale centrafricaine à prendre part à cette célébration de la fête des mères. L'ONG DMI-AHI qui est une organisation des filles de mères immigrées, veut à travers cet événement honorer les mères de Centrafrique.

Malgré une pluie battante ce jour, les organisations de femmes et l'équipe de l'ONG DMI-AHI se sont fortement mobilisées pour la réussite de l'événement qui s'est produit dans une ambiance conviviale. « Nous sommes ici parce que DMI nous invite à venir partager ce bon moment à l'occasion de la fête des mères. C'est dire que nous sommes à l'honneur aujourd'hui à travers l'organisation de cet événement par notre partenaire DMI. Nous sommes très heureuses de l'appui de DMI à nous les femmes cultivatrices. Cela nous permet d'avancer dans nos activités génératrices de revenu », a témoigné Valentine, l'une des participantes à cette cérémonie commémorative.

Deux temps forts ont marqué cette célébration: notamment l'allocation de la Sœur Gracia de l'ONG DMI-AHI qui a prodigué des conseils aux femmes centrafricaines de se battre pour leur autonomisation afin de participer à leur développement et de celui de leur pays, ensuite une thématique développée afin d'éduquer les participantes à la notion de la fête des mères, et enfin un sketch qui illustre les vécus d'une mère dans sa famille.

En République centrafricaine, cette organisation humanitaire encourage la production agricole des femmes cultivatrices afin de lutter contre l'insécurité alimentaire et la famine dans le pays. Des projets sont ainsi mis en œuvre afin d'appuyer les femmes à développer les activités génératrices de revenu.

L'ONG DMI-AHI est une organisation des filles de mères immigrées basée en Inde. L'organisation s'implante en République centrafricaine en septembre 2017 où elle œuvre dans l'humanitaire notamment l'agriculture. « Nourrir la Centrafrique par les Centrafricains » est le slogan de l'organisation pour lutter contre l'insécurité alimentaire dans le pays.
